

* * * Faculty of University of Georgia. * * *

WILLIAM ELLISON BOGGS, D. D., LL. D.,

PROFESSOR OF METAPHYSICS AND ETHICS.

A. B., South Carolina College, 1859; D. D., Southwestern Presbyterian College, 1873. LL. D., Central University, 1889. Born at Ahmednuggur, Hindostan, May 12, 1838. Professor of Ecclesiastical History and Polity, Columbia Theological Seminary, 1882. Chancellor and Professor of Metaphysics and Ethics, University of Georgia 1889.

LEON HENRI CHARBONNIER, A. M., PH. D.,

PROFESSOR OF PHYSICS AND ASTRONOMY.

Born in France, August 2, 1838. Educated at Military School of France. Adjunct Professor Ancient Languages, University of Georgia, 1866-1868. Professor Civil Engineering, 1868-1877. Since then Professor of Physics and Astronomy. Honorary A. M. and Ph. D., University of Georgia. Member of American Association for the Advancement of Science.

DAVID CRENSHAW BARROW, JR., C. & M. E.,

PROFESSOR OF MATHEMATICS.

B. Sc., C. M. E., University of Georgia, 1874. Assistant State Geologist, 1874-1876. Instructor in Pure and Applied Mathematics, 1878-1882. Professor of Applied Mathematics, 1882-1889. Professor of Mathematics, 1889.

HENRY CLAY WHITE, B. Sc., AND PH. D., F. C. S.,

PROFESSOR OF CHEMISTRY (Terrell Professorship).

Born in Baltimore, Maryland, December 30, 1850. B. Sc., University of Virginia, 1869. C. and M. E., University of Virginia, 1876. Ph. D., University of Virginia, 1885. Fellow American Association Advanced Science, 1880. Corresponding Member British Association, 1887. Fellow Chemical Society (London), 1893. Professor Natural Science St. John's College, Maryland, 1871-1872. Lecturer Peabody Institute, Baltimore, Maryland, 1871-1872. Professor of Chemistry, University of Georgia, 1872. State Chemist of Georgia, 1880-1890. President State College, 1890. Contributor to Scientific Journals. President Association of Official Chemists of the United States, 1883.

Faculty University of Georgia.—Continued.

JAMES BENJAMIN HUNNICUTT, A. B.,

PROFESSOR OF BOTANY

A. B., Emory College, 1858. A. M., Emory, 1860. Born Coweta County, Georgia, 1836. Professor of Latin, Emory College, 1861. Professor of Agriculture, University of Georgia, 1891. Assistant State Commissioner of Agriculture, 1890. Member American Congress of Farmers. Professor of Botany, University of Georgia.

JOHN HANSON THOMAS McPHERSON, A. B., PH. D.,

PROFESSOR OF HISTORY AND POLITICAL SCIENCE.

A. B., Johns Hopkins University, 1886. Ph. D., Johns Hopkins University, 1890. Born in Baltimore, Maryland, October 30, 1865. Fellow in History, Johns Hopkins University, 1889-1890. Instructor in History, University of Michigan, 1890-1891. Professor of History and Political Science, University of Georgia, 1891. Member American Historical Association. Author of "History of Liberia."

CHARLES MORTON STRAHAN, C. AND M. E.,

PROFESSOR OF ENGINEERING.

C. and M. E., University of Georgia, 1883. Born in Goochland County, Virginia, May 9, 1864. Assistant State Chemist, 1882-1890. Instructor in Mathematics and Ancient Languages, University of Georgia, 1884-1887. Assistant Professor Analytical Chemistry, University of Georgia, 1887-1890. Professor of Civil Engineering, University of Georgia, 1890. Contributor to Popular Science Monthly. Author "Clarke County and the City of Athens." State Director of National League for Good Roads.

B. F. RILEY, A. B., D.D.,

PROFESSOR OF ENGLISH.

Graduate Associate Reformed Presbyterian College of the South; South Carolina, 1871. Taught Private Schools, 1872-1873. Elective Course at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Greenville, South Carolina, and at Crozier Seminary, Chester, Pennsylvania, 1873, Pastor at Cartersville, Alabama, 1876; at Albany, Georgia, 1877-1878, at Opelika, Alabama, 1879-1883. Editor Alabama Baptist, 1884. Pastor Livingston, Alabama, 1884-1888. President Howard College, 1888-1893. Professor of English, University of Georgia, since 1894.

