

C. L. Y.
1907

* * * Officers of the Law Class. * * *

F. L. FLEMING	President.
J. H. LEWIS	Vice-President.
J. R. HUTCHISON	Secretary.
H. W. NALLEY	Treasurer.
SHELBY MYRICK	Historian.
H. S. BROWN	Captain Football Team.
HATTON LOVEJOY	Captain Baseball Team.
J. P. CHENEY	Manager Football Team.
H. E. CHAMBLISS	Manager Baseball Team.

* * * Law Class 1897. * * *

Name.	Athens Address.	Home Address.
Samuel Kendrick Abbott, K A	K. A. House	Atlanta.
Hope Hill Alexander	Dougherty Street	Blakely.
Alonzo Machumtry Brand	220 Prince Avenue	Lithonia.
Jessie Robert Brown	Prince Avenue	Sharon.
Hugh Screven Brown, Σ A E	Booths, 28 Hancock	Atlanta.
*Campbell Wallace Brumby, A T Ω	Pulaski Street	Athens.
Rufus Roy Burger	204 S. Lumpkin	Watkinsville.
James Welborn Caine, Φ Δ Θ	Meigs Street	Athens.
Howard Evans Chambless	511 E. Lumpkin	Forsyth.
John Percival Cheney, Δ T Δ	Victoria Hotel	Marietta.
Zachariah Simpson Childers	Central Hotel	LaCrosse.
Robert Murdock Coburn	Booth's, 28 Hancock	Savannah.
*Harry Hatchett Cook, K A	Booth's, 28 Hancock	Fort Gaines.
Bryant Thomas Castellow	Central Hotel	Georgetown.
Lester Clayton Culver, Φ Δ Θ	Victoria Hotel	Culverton.
William Washington Dykes	Central Hotel	LaCrosse.
John Halbrook Estell, Jr.	Victoria Hotel	Savannah.
Frank Lamar Fleming, X Φ	Lucas House	Atlanta.
James Flourney Foster	Athens	Athens.
William Ryan Frier	511 N. Lumpkin Street	Alapaha.
Patrick Haralson	Central Hotel	Blairsville.
Robert Emmett Hollingsworth, Σ N	Central Hotel	Macon.
James Robert Hutcheson	Yahoo	Draketown.
Erasmus Ripley King, Σ N	Yahoo	Irwinton.
Jefferson Randolph Lawrence	247 S. Jackson Street	Atlanta.
*John Harris Lewis		Thomaston.
*Edward Jefferson Love	Central Hotel	Quincy, Fla.
Hatton Lovejoy, Σ N	607 Meigs Street	Athens.
Carlton Montanious McKenzie	Central Hotel	Cordele.
William Norman Scott Malthie	Central Hotel	Washington.
Henry Marlin	511 E. Lumpkin Street	Dawson.
Clarence Henry Martin	Central Hotel	Cuthbert.
Stilson Maurice Matthews	S. Jackson Street	Austin, Tex.
Melville H. Messbaum	Victoria Hotel	Bainbridge.

* Left College.

Name.	Athens Address.	Home Address.
*Percy Middlebrooks	Booth's, 28 Hancock	Farmington.
Frank Rice Mitchell, X Φ	Lucas House	Atlanta.
*John Scott Murray, Φ Δ Θ	Booth's, 28 Hancock	Anderson, S. C.
Shelby Myrick, Φ Δ Θ	Commercial Hotel	Americus.
Hiram Warren Nalley	Bowden House	Villa Rica.
Thomas Lark Norris, K A	K. A. House	Newton.
*J. Earnest Palmour, Σ A E	Booth's, 28 Hancock	Gainesville.
*Claude Payton	1018 N. Pulaski	Asheville, Ky.
John Littleton Perkins	Yahoo	Mt. Airy.
William Archibald Peterson, A T Ω	141 Washington Street	Mount Vernon.
Melville Jackson Poulk	232 S. Lumpkin	LaCrosse.
Andrew Jackson Ritchie, X Φ	Central Hotel	Rabun Gap.
John Sterling Roberts	Old College	Buchanan.
Percy Romilla Schowalter, Σ N	247 S. Jackson Street	Mobile, Ala.
Richard Morris Scruggs	511 N. Lumpkin Street	Stone Mountain.
William Marshall Shaffner	Central Hotel	Daytona, Fla.
William Davis Sheffield, Σ N	Victoria Hotel	Arlington.
John William Spain, K A	K. A. House	Quitman.
George B. Stovall, X Φ	227 S. Jackson Street	Madison.
Walker Reynolds Tichenor, K A	Milledge Avenue	Atlanta.
William Gordon Warnell	511 Lumpkin Street	Oneida.

*Left College.

* * * History of the Law Class of '97. * * *

THE sublime achievements of the Law Class of 1897, as recorded in this brief sketch, will, no doubt, astonish the casual reader. He will be overcome with admiration when he is aware of the brilliancy of their career. After perusing this page his mind will be filled with surprise and wonder.

From the towering mountains in the North to the sea-washed shores in the South came the sturdy sons of Georgia, stepping upon the campus green on a bright September morn in 1896. There was ease in their manner and dignity in their step. The students at large were dazzled at their Parisian style, and they soon became the sports of college and strictly gentlemen of leisure. Throughout the year they have maintained this reputation with great honor to themselves and to the University.

But not to Georgia alone is the credit due for such noble gentlemen. Texas, Florida, South Carolina and Alabama should be mentioned as furnishing the Class with worthy members.

This notable body was composed of fifty-five men when the session began, thus possessing the exalted honor of being the largest Law Class in the annals of the institution. But this is not the only fame which it has won. The names of ex-congressmen, ex-legislators, judges, and sheriffs have graced its roll. Elderly gentlemen touched with grey, as well as youths not known to be out, have been constituent parts of this famous assembly.

As time passed away, ten of the most loyal and devoted members of the Class bade farewell to their comrades and departed for regions unknown. Though somewhat disturbed by this sad occurrence, the ranks were closed and all resumed their labors with new zeal and energy.

There is no walk in the realm of college life upon which the lawyers of '97 have not entered. In the society halls they have proved themselves to be debaters and orators of the highest ability. Through their untiring efforts the literary societies have been given a new impulse, and interest in oratory has been revived. In the field of literature also, they have won many laurels.

But although occupied with deep and intricate subjects, still athletics have not been neglected. Both the football and baseball teams have drawn valuable players from its members, the very mention of whose names is calculated to elicit applause.

In the world of society every one knows what a prominent stand the lawyers have taken, their presence having been indispensable for the success of the gayeties occurring during the college year. But above all other matters their propensity to sleep stands out in bold relief, at the same time, however, they have occasionally been students in the strictest sense of the word. The Class has performed all of its duties well, carrying out the time-honored custom of the Law School to a letter. Upon April 1st it made a most creditable showing, together with those whom its members did always most long to see, the Lucy Cobb girls.

The history of the Law Class of eighteen hundred and ninety-seven clearly evinces the fact that ere long when all go forth with their diplomas there will be no dearth of great men in the State to occupy the offices of honor, and to battle for the cause of justice.

SHELBY MYRICK.