Mrs. W. J. McDaniel

The remains of Mrs. McDaniel, wife of Esquire W. J. McDaniel of Dalton, former citizen of Calhoun and county School commissioner of this county for a number of years, were brought here from Atlanta for interment Wednesday. Mrs. McDaniel had been feeble and in ill health for a long time and had been in St. Joseph's Infirmary Atlanta for treatment several weeks. The body was carried straightway to the Methodist church where it was held for several hours that friends might call. A husband and six children survive. The funeral was held at 1.30 o'clock Rev. J. McD. Radford officiating and the interment was in the family lot at Fairview Cemetery.
