Good boarding-schools for children whose parents have to live in out-stations are greatly needed all over India. We are glad to hear that arrangements have been made to open a boarding school for girls at Akola on the G.I.P.R. between Nagpur and Bhosawal. An English education will be given, with Christian instruction. The school will opened on 10th July, but applications may be made at once to the Lady Principal Miss Matson, Akola, Berar, or to Rev. M. B. or Mrs. Fuller, at Akola. Either of the above will send a prospectus on application.
19th of the same; being the week before, and the ten days during which the Conference will be in session."

Among the Chairmen for the Public Meetings in connection with the Conference are the Earl of Northbrook, Lord Kinnaird, Lord Polwarth, Lord Radstock and Sir William Muir. Fifty Societies in England, Scotland and Ireland directly connected with Foreign Missions, are represented on the Committee in London. More than fifty societies are represented on the Committee in New York and many delegates and representatives from the United States will attend the Conference in London.

Dear: Dearest and Beloved,

I send you my little Clement. It will look very small to you fine folk, but remember, even Dick had his day of small things. I've been some exploring. A Rupen is thirty-five cents—making my new seven dollars per month on the Hotel during five for week. This puts the bill back to a boarding school Can; pay. To be sure washing I received. Clement's from other schools in missions here in India and followed them some what. Of course it is a beginning, and I shall have to learn by experience. What will do and what will not. I have been sending the circular out through the Province that there are no schools. Names here have been furnished me. I shall not be disappointed. Nearly all of the schools is not small at first. There is some opposition among Enfronts school's native girls will be admitted. A Brahmin, long since in a leading man, has told the Mullah himself he should send his little girl, the eight-year-old, and his uncle are making a fuss because he does not know her married. He is putting it off as long as he can. Some Vondage? I presume I shall get little Brokawins girls in time but thing more slowly here. I could settle things more easily if I had instruments either Union or Confederate, the book has come to a stand still, until lines fall. out and then the next town will be considerable more to the Kingdom is done and I am moved in at last. It is so quiet cool and comfortable through the thermometer is 110 and 115. I do not feel the heat much. I have often felt it in Nashville, and it is so much more comfortably sitable. People prepare for heat Love, one building, and as their modes of living. I am surprised to find what books have held to the Sabbath is Bunting and their life-grown lack. The books used in other schools I must use though they are poor much inferior to our American school books. Everything so on the English culture. I do want a few reference books for say German. I did not bring a single text book from Nashville. They mostly belong at the Institution. Though there were some that were found. I am not now at present, thinking of another letter as I meant. As you and MIlly are still free hand in getting and sending me a Reed's 'English.'

My dear Miss Malton,

Mrs. J. and myself were so glad to hear from you that you are going to Lucknow. You cannot but enjoy it. I have only time to write a line to-day but will say that I have taken the liberty to forward your letter to Bishop Thoburn who will be at L., with my own notions as to what sort of a sister in the lift should you be. I know he is looking earnestly for some one of your stamp to help in our school work at a certain place where opportunity is practically limitless. Please go direct to him at L., as he will look out for you, and you will meet nearly all our Missionaries in part of the world, for two days are over, your only trouble will be to decide who to go with when the meetings break up. I am speaking from experience of their hospitality.
I am writing Dr. Miss Badley of your coming. I will visit you to pray for you, then

away for you to stay and labor
in this needy Empire.

Your book is slowly approaching completion. Look crowds us.

Yours in Christ.

H.C. Stuntz.
