As Your Fulltime County Commissioner

Punch #126
H. D. DODSON:

1. Remains the only 24-hour Full Time County Commissioner. The phone lines and office are always open. (572-2794)

2. Has improved the salaries of low-paid county employees from $6,000 a year to a minimum of $7,200 a year.

3. Has provided funding for the P. J. Woods Center for the Blind, Morehouse College Medical School, United Youth Adult Conference, The Urban League Youth Training Program, and many others.

4. Has always been truthful to his constituents. He will always speak out on issues that will affect his constituents regardless of how "hot" it is. Only a few politicians can truthfully say this.

5. The Only Choice You Have to Keep a Voice in County Government (District 6) is H. D. Dodson, The People's Candidate.

Dear Voters:

As you know, Atlanta Mayor Maynard Jackson has endorsed two candidates for seats on the Fulton County Commission. One of these individuals is running against me to represent you on the Fulton County Commission. Now I thought my opponent was Chuck, but on July 25, 1978 at his weekly news conference, Maynard made the following statement:

"I don't plan on losing any race that I run."

As a result of this statement it should be obvious to you that Mayor Jackson is intent on running County Government as well as City Government. Now in most peoples' minds Maynard has not run City Government well — Now how can he run County Government too.

I have been your fulltime Commissioner for four years. When you have called, I've been there. When you've needed me, I've been there, and when you call upon me in the next four years as your 6th District County Commissioner, you can be assured the call you place will be answered at Fulton County and not City Hall.

Please check my record, and tell a friend. Keep Maynard out of County Government.

The voters of Fulton County need Honest, Experienced Representation. As good citizens, I know you are aware of the power structure within this County. This power structure continues to flood their candidates with Big Money to keep or elect these wasteful spenders of taxpayers dollars.

I am asking you, your neighbors and your friends to get out and vote in the July 17th primary. Let’s change the way the special interest group run "your" County. Let’s give the power back to the people of Fulton County where it belongs.

Dear Friend:

By now you may have heard that I am a write-in candidate for the office of County Commissioner in the General Election to be held on November 7th. Nevertheless, I would like to personally and officially inform you of my candidacy and ask for your support.

There are two other candidates in this race, but I am more experienced in County Government and known throughout the County than either of them. However, there is one handicap; in order to vote for me you must write in “DODSON” on the ballot.

To be successful at this race I need your help. I am asking you and your friends to support me in this effort. To do this you must ask them to write in “DODSON, COMM. DIST. 2” on November 7.

I thank you for your help and the support that you have already given me this year. I have not had the time to officially thank you, but I consider you a special friend and hope that you can understand the difficult task of trying to organize a write-in campaign. With your continued help, I know we can win.

Along with your moral support, your financial help would be very much appreciated. If you and your family and friends care to make a contribution to my campaign, please call 688-1036 or 688-1037 and we will have someone to pick it up.

Sincerely,

H. D. Dodson
Fulton County Commissioner

P.S. This is a County-wide election and all Fulton County voters are eligible to write in “DODSON.”

Hi, Neighbor,

As you know I am running for the State House seat vacated recently by our friend, Ben Brown.

As I said in my opening announcement for the 34th House seat, I intend to speak as well as act for our community.

I have been involved with people problems all my life and have studied and been prepared for this public office as National Communications Director for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. My work and association with Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. and his closest aides, such as Andrew Young, our Ambassador to the United Nations, Dr. Ralph Abernathy, Rep. Hosea Williams and many others has prepared me to represent our district in the Georgia Legislature. When elected my first act will be to open an office and be a full-time representative so that our district will be served more effectively.

I promise to contact every voter in the 34th District during this campaign and this is my initial contact with you. However, I will probably be stopping by your house or calling on the phone in the next week or so.

If you have any questions about me or my platform, call 522-1420 or 755-4956. If you would like to invite some of your friends by your house, I would be available to stop by and speak with them. As you can imagine my time is limited and I would need to have your invitation at least two days in advance.

I appreciate your time and your vote. Please, vote March 15, 1977.

My Dear Friend and Voter:

I am asking for you to vote for me to take the seat left vacant by Ambassador Andrew Young.

On March 15, 1977, we the residents of the Fifth Congressional District will go to the polls to select our Congressman. The actual procedure will not take sixty seconds. However, the period of time spent on that decision, for most of us, will be a much longer process.

My decision to run was reached after just such a long process. Atlanta nor America will ever understand or fully appreciate my commitment to our beloved lost brother and friend, Martin Luther King, Jr., to fulfill his dream. The banner he left behind was both long and heavy, but thank God I never let it trail in the dust.

The truth of the matter is that it was my many years of work with Dr. King that tipped the scales in favor of my running. For it is truly the time now to resolve our problems in the political arenas of this country. And what greater place can be found than that august body of men and women who serve in the United States Congress.

There is really no need to discuss my record of service because it is not really a record, it is a life. My entire productive life has been spent in service to people, people like you all over the world. Now I want to serve you and the residents of the Fifth Congressional District.

Dr. King frequently predicted for me a career in politics. He based this on my ability to involve people of all levels, races and religions in our non-violent movement to achieve justice for all American citizens. This was a part of his dream and program.

You can play a vital role in the achievement of that dream. I want your support! I need your support! And I am asking for your support! So won’t you go to the polls on March 15th and vote for me by PUNCHING No. 4, the first name on the ballot of candidates for the Fifth Congressional seat.

OPEN LETTER TO THE VOTERS

Dear Voters,

I sincerely hope and pray that you are as concerned about our district as I am. Far too long have we stood by and watched our district deteriorate. This is also true of our district representation. The time has come for us as concerned citizens to re-vitalize District 3 so that we may once again enjoy the heritage and respect that we so richly deserve.

Our district was once recognized as the heartbeat of inner-city Atlanta and The Gateway To The Westside. However, in recent years, we have been overlooked and seemingly forgotten by those in whom we have placed our trust. Let us therefore, go to the polls on October 4th and reclaim that which is rightfully ours, namely; our position of prominence, our community pride, our heritage and our respect as true Citizens Of Atlanta.

This can be done by supporting CHARLES W. BENNETT for City Councilman, District 3. MR. BENNETT is a product of our community having attended E. A. Ware and English Avenue Elementary Schools. He is a 1963 graduate of Henry McNeal Turner High School and a 1975 graduate of Morris Brown College where he majored in Business Administration and minored in Economics. MR. BENNETT is also a Viet Nam Era Veteran having served as a Sargeant in the U. S. Marine Corps. CHARLES W. BENNETT is actively involved in helping to uplift our community and has not only a deep concern for our survival but also an unyeilding faith in our resurgence as a vital part of Atlanta's future.

Let's support the re-birth of District 3 on October 4th by electing CHARLES W. BENNETT as City Councilman, District 3. Our future depends on our concern.

To The Voters of Mosley Park:

For eight years, I was proud to represent you on Atlanta's City Council.

I'm proud too of the efforts I made in your behalf. Now reapportionment has drawn new lines for the 3rd District, and what was Precinct 3-P is now 4-D. Precinct 4-D is in the 4th Council District, represented by my good friend James Bond.

James has served as Chairman of the Council's Committee on Council, and the Development, Public Safety and Zoning Committees.

He has worked tirelessly to deliver city services to the citizens of the 4th District, and will give you the same kind of attention and responsible representation.

He helped me re-channelize Proctor Creek on Burbank Drive, to eliminate flooding and control a hazard in your community. He helped me connect Fair and Chicamauga Street in your community.

He has promised to listen to you, and to make sure that your voice is heard in City Hall.

I am writing to ask you to vote for James Bond on October 6th.

I promise you'll never be sorry that you did.

Dear Community Resident:

Running for public office can be a very challenging experience. The upcoming October elections are truly one of the most important decisions that we must make in determining the future of our community and our city.

The past four years, our community has witnessed a City Councilman who has repeatedly failed to serve our community. In the last four years, crime and poor housing has brought our neighborhoods to the forefront of the public’s eye.

Because of such representation and because of general lack of concern from our City Councilman, on Wednesday, June 3, 1981, I announced my candidacy to represent the 4th Council District in the City of Atlanta. There are going to be several persons seeking this position, however, I hope you will follow our campaign seriously and determine the candidate that you choose by the issues presented.

I am making one campaign pledge to you today, I will personally greet you at your home, because I am planning to enact one of the most aggressive campaigns, ever.

With your dreams to build a better community, you can help elect one of Atlanta’s most productive City Councilman to ever serve our community in recent years.

DEAR FRIEND,

HAVING SPENT THE PAST SIX MONTHS GOING DOOR-TO-DOOR IN OUR COMMUNITY I HAVE LEARNED A LOT ABOUT THE FINE PEOPLE THAT LIVE HERE. I HAVE HAD THE OPPORTUNITY TO TALK WITH MANY PEOPLE THAT WERE BORN HERE, RAISED HERE AND THEN RAISED THEIR CHILDREN HERE. YET, TODAY THEY ARE BEING FACED WITH UNNECESSARY PROBLEMS FROM RETIREMENT.

WE WORK ALL OUR LIVES TO ENJOY THAT TIME WHEN OUR FAMILY IS RAISED AND WE CAN ENJOY RETIREMENT LIFE. GOVERNMENT HAS MADE IT DIFFICULT WHEN FACING THIS TIME IN OUR LIVES NOW. EVERYONE TRIES TO SAVE MONEY FOR RETIREMENT TIME BUT WITH RISING PROPERTY TAXES, HIGHER GROCERY AND UTILITY BILLS OUR MONEY SAVED IS QUICKLY SPENT. THE FUTURE DOES NOT LOOK THAT BRIGHT UNLESS SOMEONE WORKS TO SOLVE SOME OF THESE PROBLEMS.

IT IS TIME THAT GOVERNMENT HELP LIFT SOME OF THE BURDENS THEY HAVE PLACED ON OUR SENIOR CITIZENS. AS YOUR REPRESENTATIVE I WILL WORK FOR THAT GOAL. I THINK WE SHOULD GIVE PROPERTY TAX RELIEF TO OUR SENIOR CITIZENS. SALES TAX ON FOOD AND DRUGS CAN BE REMOVED FOR SENIOR CITIZENS. BUT WE MUST BEGIN THESE RELIEF PROGRAMS TO OUR SENIOR CITIZENS QUICKLY BEFORE THEY LOOSE THEIR HOMES TO HIGHER TAXES AND GO WITHOUT HEAT DURING THE UPCOMING WINTER.

MANY SENIOR CITIZENS ARE WORKING ON MY CAMPAIGN. THEY HAVE INTRODUCED ME TO SOME FINE PEOPLE. AND I WANT TO HELP. IF ELECTED I WOULD LIKE TO SEE A SENIOR CITIZENS BOARD PUT TOGETHER TO WORK WITH THEIR REPRESENTATIVE ON DEVELOPING SENIOR CITIZEN LEGISLATION.

I NEED YOUR HELP FIRST! I MUST BE ELECTED TO WORK FOR OUR COMMUNITY AS YOUR REPRESENTATIVE. WE HAVE MANY PROBLEMS THAT CAN BE SOLVED AND I KNOW I CAN DO THE JOB. PLEASE HELP ME- HILDRED SHUMAKE- HELP THE PEOPLE BY ELECTING ME AS YOUR NEXT STATE REPRESENTATIVE.

CITY COUNCIL

PUNCH #1
VOTE FEB. 5TH
Dear Fellow Atlantan:

As a concerned citizen of Atlanta, you will be going to the polls on February 5th to cast your vote in the election of our next City Council President. I would like to ask you for your support in that race.

I have the experience and leadership ability to serve as an effective Council President. For example, as the Chairman of the Public Safety Committee, I was able recently to propose and carry through a settlement of the police employment litigation that had been in court, unsolved for years. This settlement saved the taxpayers great expense that would have been incurred in a long court battle. The police department can now begin to move forward to deal effectively with crime, a problem that is threatening to destroy our very community.

The city of Atlanta will face some of its greatest challenges during the next several years with the problems of crime, the provision of quality municipal services, establishing a fair tax burden, and paying city employees fair wages. To meet our challenges, the City must work cooperatively with the State and Federal Governments. All segments of the community must work well together, Black and White, and business and neighborhood groups. We must have cooperation and strong and respected leadership.

I have lived in Atlanta for 38 years, I graduated from college and law school here, and I maintain my profession here. Public service has played an important role in my life for many years, as an Atlanta Councilman, Chairman of the Atlanta-Fulton County Stadium Authority, member of Bar Association Committees, and many other civic activities. I am convinced that my experience best suits me for the Council Presidency.

We need a Council President who can draw on long government and professional experience, rather than a newcomer or a person who has never worked in the private sector. We need a President who is intimately familiar with Atlanta's strengths and weaknesses, its people and its government, its communities and its businesses. I believe I have the knowledge and the ability to lead, and I ask you for your support, in the election and in office. Thank you very much.

Yours for Atlanta,

Marvin S. Arrington

Dear Fellow Atlantan:

As you know I am now engaged in a runoff campaign for the office of President of Atlanta's City Council. I was most appreciative of the support I received from all segments of Atlantans, but the real task will be getting the people back to the polls on February 19th.

My record is one of service to this City. It is an established record and one which reflects a commitment to the people whom I have had the privilege to represent in our City Council. You may not have agreed with every position I've taken over the last 10 years, but I think you will agree that anyone who has consistently and objectively observed my actions on the Council over the years, must conclude that I am now, and always have been, my own man.

My service on City Council has earned the respect of my colleagues on the Council, as well as of the Mayor. Most recently, I was most active in the resolution of the lengthy litigation which prevented our City from hiring additional policemen. In addition, I have introduced several important pieces of legislation which are specifically designed to address our serious crime problems.

It is unrealistic to believe that a person occupying the office of President of City Council can unilaterally impose his will on the members of the Council without keeping an open mind as to the thoughts and feelings of others. Further, that office was never meant to be, and is not now, a training ground for future mayors. Its significance lies in the guidance which it can provide the legislation introduced into Council. The person occupying that position must be able to serve as a bridge between the Council and the Mayor. My service as President will not be influenced or otherwise affected, by considerations of political future. Atlanta needs effective, strong, stable leadership today.

I care about Atlanta, not about personal power and influence. I need your support and I am asking you for it. Please go back to the polls on February 19th, cast your vote for Marvin Arrington and please ask three of your friends to do so. It is important! I will be most grateful for your assistance.

Sincerely,

Marvin S. Arrington

Dear Fellow Atlantan,

Last year when I was elected President of the Atlanta City Council, I made a commitment to provide the direction and leadership for the Council to address the real needs of the City’s many and varied interests. As I now seek re-election to a full four-year term, it is fitting that my record of service, to date, be evaluated by you as I earnestly solicit your vote, your support and your assistance.

The legislative accomplishments of the Council during my relatively short term in office have been many, representing a source of both pride and inspiration for me. I am particularly pleased and gratified for the work of the Task Forces which I appointed early in my term to help the Council improve the delivery of municipal services. Concerned citizens from the business and private sectors were asked to evaluate many areas of our government. While their reports were sometimes critical of existing systems, they were always fair and honest, and it is to the City’s benefit that many of their recommendations have already been implemented.

Of equal significance is the fact that the image of the Council has improved substantially during my term, thereby creating a better atmosphere for productive work for our City. Instituted at my direction, our newsletter, “Council Contact,” has resulted in a better informed citizenry on vital issues affecting our community.

For all of the City’s very real problems, I believe that the future of Atlanta has never been brighter. I have actively sought to reconcile the diverse elements that make up Atlanta, for I believe that downtown business interests and the interests of the poor and dispossessed are inextricably intertwined. The years ahead call for leadership that is experienced, firm and dedicated to practical problem solving, yet sensitive to the City’s economic needs and the people’s human needs. I want to continue to provide such leadership to Atlanta and I solicit your support of my candidacy.

Thank you for your continued support.

Yours for Atlanta,

Dear Neighbor:

Please join me in a "March Against Crime" on October 28, 1979. This march is sponsored by the Atlanta Religious Mobilization Against Crime (ARMAC) organization and its purpose is to mobilize the citizens of Atlanta to show their determination to rid Atlanta of its crime problem.

I, and I know that you too, believe in Atlanta and am determined that Atlanta will remain in the hands of our law abiding citizens. I believe that our crime problems will abate when the people of Atlanta join the fight against crime. Crime cannot prevail and exist when we have a determined and alarmed citizenry who are participating in the fight against crime.

The march will start at 2:15 P.M. next Sunday at the Atlanta Stadium. We will be marching with other concerned citizens to Central City Park where a program will be conducted by ARMAC.

Please join me.

Yours for Atlanta,

Marvin S. Arrington

P.S. Please read the enclosed editorial which appeared in the Atlanta Journal on October 19, 1979.
Agony of a City

Richard Matthews

THEY HAD TRIED to wash away the blood outside the doughnut shop, but at 9 a.m. Thursday the traces remained, brownish blotsches a dozen feet apart marking where the life had drained out of two people the day before.

Atlanta is upset, frustrated, angry over the unexplainable, unforgivable event in which a crazed man put a pretty young secretary out of her happiness seconds before he finally put himself out of his misery.

Women hurrying to their offices downtown Thursday had wary looks on their faces, glancing from side to side at passersby as if they feared each one might be a mindless gunman like the one who killed Patti Barry. People were starting to talk about how it wasn't safe to be downtown anymore. Some were looking for someone to blame.

It was the last straw for some. In conversation and in published comments, a number of people blew their stacks, saying that the murder meant the city is going to Hell and demanding that something be done, demanding that the police stop such things from happening, demanding that drunks and punks be swept away.

Men were not alone in their rage. I understand scores of people called the paper to vent their fury and frustration. No doubt many metro area residents made their decisions this week to give up on Atlanta, to conclude that one could not walk the streets, to declare that they would never come downtown again.

It's not unusual to see irrational reactions to irrational events. I'll never forget the time I went to my parking lot one afternoon and discovered that a woman had committed suicide in her car; a man who came upon the scene when I did looked, cursed the "crime wave" that the incident represented to him, and vowed he would never be back.

But what did the killing of Patti Barry mean?

It meant, first of all, that a woman who by the testimony of her friends was fine and decent and good is dead. People can write, talk, rant, cry and pray from now on and never adequately express how awful, how senseless her death was.

It also meant there are terrible flaws in a system which will let loose a man whose madness and menace were obvious to everyone he met except, apparently, the authorities who could do something about it.

It meant that fate and coincidence play a greater part in our lives than we would like to think, that all our planning, all our precautions, cannot remove the risk that random chance will pick us for its victim of the moment.

But does it mean Atlanta has gone to hell?

The facts of the incident do not suggest that it happened because the citizens have been abandoned by the forces which are supposed to protect them. Problems aplenty plague our police bureau, but when Patti Barry fell bleeding on the sidewalk, there was only a few yards away a policeman on horseback, reputedly the most impressive deterrent to crime there is in the law enforcement arsenal. The officer was there, but was helpless because of the insanity, the unpredictability of the event.

It did not happen because they city has not cleaned the streets of winos and "punks," as the mayor and some others think should be done. Raymond P. Bunting may have acted strangely, even offensively, but there is no evidence that his appearance or demeanor would have caused him to be singled out in any dragnet of derelicts that might have taken place Wednesday evening.

It does not mean it is impossible to walk the streets downtown. Half a million people do it every day, and fewer than half a hundred have been killed there in the 291 days of this year — almost none of them during normal working hours. That is by no means an acceptable figure, but it does suggest that a trip to Atlanta is not a mandatory death sentence.

What it does mean is that there will be more wild ravings, more screaming about the "war zone" downtown, more calls for drastic measures which will have no real effect on crime. It means more people will turn away from the city, abandoning its streets and offices and restaurants and stores.

These are not overreactions — it is impossible to react too strongly to even a single death — but they are misplaced, and, in the end, will hurt rather than help.

We must never accept crime, we must never be satisfied with our efforts to fight it as long as they fail short of complete success. But we must be careful that in our outrage, in our grief, in our frustration over the killing of an innocent person, we do not inadvertently kill our city, too.

Dear Friend,

As a result of the re-drawing of Atlanta's Council District lines, you are now a resident of the 4th District. I am running for re-election, and need your help.

After you have examined my record, I hope I can count on you.

For three years, I served as Chairman of the Council's Development Committee. The majority of our efforts have been directed at projects in the 4th District. A few of them are:

- $150,000 for renovation, landscaping, resurfacing tennis courts, fence repairs, rebuilding picnic pavilion at Oakland City Park
- $67,650 for landscaping at the McDaniel Glenn Public Housing Project
- $167,874 to provide street lights, sidewalks, trees and street furniture in the West End - Peeples Street area
- $248,297 for installation of high pressure vapor street lighting on Martin Luther King Jr. Drive between Chestnut Street and Northside Drive
- $250,000 for site improvements to the Morehouse Medical School
- $21,000 for architectural barrier removal at the Dunbar Facility
- $213,130 for replacement of damaged sewer in the Gordon Street - White Street area
- $448,749 for replacement of obsolete traffic signal control in West End
- $275,000 for site and building purchase and remodeling of recreation center in Adair Park
- $100,000 for purchase and installation of play equipment in West End Park and construction of picnic pavilion in English Park

- $20,000 for the local share of SBA 502 loans in the University West Martin Luther King Jr. Drive - Ashby Street area

- $187,000 for development of playground and athletic fields, remodeling gymnasium at Adair Park

- $325,000 for high intensity lighting in the West End business district

- $200,000 for redevelopment of commercial site west of McDaniel Glenn Public Housing Project

- $173,500 for public improvements for the Fair Street Bottoms area

- $25,000 for site improvements at Friendship Towers, Northside Drive and Mitchell Street

- $2,130,191 for widening Martin Luther King Jr. Drive and Ashby Street

- $30,000 for design study of renovation of the Knowles Building on Beckwith Street

- $50,000 for redesign of Graves Hall on the campus of Morehouse College

In my eight years on the council, I have attended at least two community meetings each week. As one of the few full-time city councilmembers, I am constantly available to hear constituent requests and to solve their problems.

As Chairman of the Zoning Committee, I directed the rewriting of Atlanta's Zoning law to halt commercial encroachment into residential neighborhoods. I created the Task Force which rewrote Atlanta's Housing Code, providing safe housing for all Atlantans. I sponsored the legislation which created our beautiful new Atlanta Public Library.

I'm proud of my record as councilman. I need your help to continue, and hope you won't be misled by campaign rhetoric from those who have no record at all. Before you ask them what they're going to do, ask them what they've done.

How I'm Going To Vote

Council District 4. I like incumbent James Bond and trust his approach to government. I don't much like his chief challenger, former city attorney Thomas Cuffie, who strikes me as testy, opportunistic, and uncomfortable with opinions at variance with his own. Cuffie's faith in the public-spiritedness of the private businessman appears to me to be cynical, stupid, or both.

To City Council 4th District 391 Westview Dr, SW Atlanta, GA 30310 755/7050
Fourth District Councilmember James Bond won election to the Council in 1973 and was re-elected in 1977. He is a native of Fort Valley, Ga., and attended both the Cambridge School of Weston in Weston, Massachusetts and Georgia Tech.

Bond has long been active in civic and community affairs. He served as Acting Director of Communications for the Student Non Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) in the early seventies.

He is on the Advisory Board of the Atlanta Legal Aid Society and is a former Southwestern Director of the Youth Citizenship Fund. He founded the Political Information Clearinghouse in 1973, is a member of the Metro Unit of the League of Women Voters, is a Voter Education Project Fellow and was manager of Julian Bond’s State Senate campaign. In 1974 he served as Chairman of the Labor Education Advancement Program Advisor’s Committee of the Atlanta Urban League. He is a former member of the Atlanta Economic Development Corporation and currently is on the Board of the Urban Residential Finance Authority.

For three years Bond was Chairman of the Council’s Development Committee and in 1981 became Chairman of the newly created Zoning Committee, which assumed the zoning responsibilities of the Development Committee. As Chairman of the Development Committee he initiated many efforts to streamline city development ordinances and policies. He was Chairman of the Zoning Task Force which re-wrote the City’s Zoning Code. He introduced the ordinance creating the Housing Study Commission which subsequently revised the City’s Housing Code. He initiated the transfer of redevelopment powers from the Atlanta Housing Authority to the City, and co-sponsored legislation authorizing the construction of the new Atlanta Public Library.

Bond takes an absorbing interest in the development of cable television for Atlanta. He is a member and past chairman of the Council’s Cable Television Subcommittee, Vice Chairman of the National League of Cities Task Force on Cable Television, and Secretary and a Board member of the National Federation of Local Cable Programmers, and a Board member of Access Atlanta.

Bond has criticized the National Cable Television Association whose policies in opposition to municipal regulation he believes are detrimental to the creative development of cable television.

"Cable has a tremendous potential as an alternative communications medium," Bond says. "But in many cities this potential has gone unrealized. My interest as an elected official is in seeing that Atlanta, as the South’s leading commercial, business, and cultural center, has a cable television capability unsurpassed in the nation."

In addition to chairing the Zoning Committee, Bond is also a member of the Council’s Community Development, City Utilities, and Executive committees.

Neighborhoods in his district are: Westview, West End, Just Us, Ashview, Harris Chiles, John Hope, Adair Park, Pittsburgh, Peoplestown, Mechanicsville, and Atlanta University Center.

He may be reached at 361 Westview, S.W., 755-7050, or at the Atlanta City Council offices, City Hall, 68 Mitchell St., Atlanta, Ga., 658-6356.

Dear Voter:

Thank you for your participation in the October 6th election!

I missed winning by only 6% of the vote, but I need your help to win on October 27th.

I urge you to get out and vote again in the October 27th run-off!

From the beginning of this campaign I was the only candidate to run on the issues of honest representation and community service.

I was the only candidate who took his campaign to your neighborhood - and the only candidate who was interested in your community's problems long before the campaign began.

I am still the only candidate in the race with a long record of service to the 4th District!

I badly need your vote and support. Won't you help me to continue serving you on Atlanta's City Council?

I promise to live up to your support!

Go back to vote on October 27th. Let's do it again. Vote for JAMES BOND.

Dear Clark Alumni:

We are writing to you about one of the members of the Clark Family, Clarence Cooper. He is a 1964 graduate of Clark College and is now running for re-election to the Georgia Court of Appeals. Earlier this year, Governor Joe Frank Harris appointed Judge Cooper to a seat on the court, where he has served the state of Georgia with distinction.

Judge Cooper is a sophisticated, proven jurist who, prior to his appointment, served as Judge of Fulton County Superior Court from 1981-1990 and Judge of Atlanta Municipal Court from 1976-1980. In a legal career that began in 1966, he has also served as a law clerk in private practice, a legal services attorney, a U.S. Army attorney, and as an Assistant District Attorney in Fulton County.

A native of Decatur, Georgia, Judge Cooper graduated Magna Cum Laude with a B.A. degree from Clark and received his law degree from Emory University. He completed research at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) and received a master's degree in Public Administration from Harvard University (JFK School of Government).

Judge Cooper is a man of high integrity, principle, moral character, and a dedicated family man. He and his wife Shirley have two children, Jennae and Corey.

We want you to join us in keeping Clarence Cooper on the Court of Appeals. Please make yourself a "committee of one" to seek the support of your family, friends, and co-workers. Judge Cooper needs your financial support (remittance envelope enclosed), and, if you live in Georgia, your vote on July 17.

We appreciate your support.

Dear Citizen:

A very important election will take place on August 5, 1980. You will have an opportunity to elect a judge to the very important position of Judge of Superior Court of Fulton County. Judges at all levels of the court system play important roles in all our lives because they are responsible for insuring that each citizen receives fair and equal treatment, regardless of the reason for being before the Court and regardless of national origin, color, creed, religion, educational level or income.

Upon my appointment as Municipal Court Judge in 1976, I began to implement important reforms in the Municipal Court such as a good Pretrial Release Program and Recorded Transcripts of all matters before the Court which protects the rights of all citizens. One of the most important responsibilities of any judge is to administer justice on a fair basis. During my three (3) years as a sitting Judge on the Municipal Court, I have tried to serve the varied needs of clients who have come before the Municipal Court.

I am a candidate for Judge of the Superior Court of Fulton County because of my experience as a Municipal Court Judge and because of my desire to serve citizens of Fulton County at a different level of the judicial system.

After graduation from Clark College in 1964, I entered Emory University Law School and completed studies for the law degree in 1967. From 1967 to 1968, I worked as an attorney with the Atlanta Legal Aid Society. For the next eight (8) years, I was an assistant district attorney for Fulton County. In 1977, I took a leave of absence from the Municipal Court to study court systems and administration of judicial systems at Harvard University. I received the Master of Public Administration from Harvard University in 1978, specializing in Court Administration.

I believe that my experience as a Municipal Court Judge, my educational background, and my commitment to continue as a fair but decisive Judge qualify me to represent you on the Superior Court of Fulton County.

I WOULD APPRECIATE YOUR SUPPORT OF MY CANDIDACY IN THIS ELECTION.

Sincerely,

Judge Clarence Cooper

Dear Clarkite:

Judge Clarence Cooper, a 1964 honor graduate of Clark College, is waging a vigorous campaign to win a seat on the bench of the Superior Court of Fulton County.

Judge Cooper is running as a Democrat and all Clarkites (registered to vote in Fulton) can vote for him in the August 5th Democratic Primary by turning to Page 6 and punching Number 96.

Having grown up in Atlanta, Judge Cooper attended David T. Howard High School, Clark College, and Emory University School of Law.

As a city judge, Judge Cooper has been responsible for the implementation of three highly successful projects - a pretrial release services program, a court reporting system for the Municipal Court, and a new weapon detection system.

Considered a man of wisdom and outstanding scholastic ability, Judge Cooper took a leave of absence from the bench in 1977-78 to accept fellowships to both Harvard University and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. While attending both universities, Judge Cooper received a Master of Public Administration from Harvard University and a Research Diploma from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he wrote a scholarly research paper on the judicial system.

Having made a financial contribution to Judge Cooper's campaign, I am urging other Clarkites to do likewise. This is a golden opportunity for the Clark family to rally behind a Clarkite who is most deserving of the position he seeks.

Sincerely,

Ralph Long

August 15, 1980

Dear Clarkite:

As you know, no doubt, Judge Clarence Cooper is in a runoff election August 26th, 1980, for the important position of Judge of Superior Court of Fulton County. Judge Cooper emerged from the August 5th election leading all opponents, but he must run against Nick Lambros August 26th, which is going to be a tough race.

Clarence is a Clark College graduate and needs the support of all Clarkites. I write in his behalf, not merely because he is a Clark graduate, but because he is eminently qualified for the position he is seeking and deserves our support.

Since graduating from Clark College in 1964, Clarence has earned a law degree from Emory University; he has studied court systems and administration of Judicial Systems at Harvard University, receiving from that University in 1978 the degree of Master of Public Administration, specializing in Court Administration. His experience for fourteen years has been extensive and fruitful, having worked as an attorney with the Atlanta Legal Aid Society 1967-68; for eight (8) years Assistant District Attorney for Fulton County; appointed Municipal Judge in 1976 where he still serves. Clarence’s educational preparation, his rich experience, and his deep commitment to a just legal system qualify him, without doubt, for the position of Judge of Superior Court of Fulton County. This fact his endorsements attest.

There are at least four things you can do to help Judge Cooper win this election:

1. By all means go to the polls and vote in the runoff election Tuesday, August 26, 1980.

2. Cast your ballot for Judge Clarence Cooper (on page 1, Punch #12).

3. Speak a good word to as many others as you can in behalf of Judge Cooper.

4. If you can and feel inclined to do so, send a contribution to Judge Cooper to help him financially.

I am going to do all four of the things suggested above. I hope you will too. Judge Cooper needs our support. President Elias Blake, your president, also wanted you to know he too is going to do the four things above and is strongly supporting Judge Cooper.

Dear Ms. McPheeters,

Since Andy Young went to the United Nations we have had weak representation in Congress. Your vote can change that!

On August 8 you will have an opportunity to elect a congressman to return leadership to the 5th Congressional District. I am running for this seat because we need better representation. I am a lawyer and Georgia state representative, and I worked for Congressman Young and for former Congressman Al Lowenstein of New York.

It is clear that our present Congressman has failed to represent the majority of the people of this district well. He voted

- against public schools by supporting tuition tax credits for private grade schools and high schools and against the use of HEW funds for school integration;

- against hungry and poor people by voting to cut $674 million from the food stamp program and by voting against a U.S. Senate proposal to provide $250 per family in aid for high utility bills; and

- against Congressman Parren Mitchell’s amendment to shift $6.5 million from wasteful defense spending to domestic needs.

My votes on these and other key issues would have been different.

Your vote on August 8 can give us better representation. I have gone directly to the people throughout this district talking about these important issues because our campaign could not pay for expensive radio and television ads.

This is why I personally ask for your vote in the Democratic primary on Tuesday, August 8. PUNCH #60! (page 4) YOUR VOTE WILL MAKE THE DIFFERENCE. You can help our campaign with even a small personal contribution. Please send it with your home and work address to Friends of Clint Deveaux, Box 2995, Atlanta, Georgia 30301.

There's No Substitute For Experience.

October 17, 1979

Dear Voter,

Our fight for experienced, hardworking Atlanta leadership in the Georgia House of Representatives isn't over yet.

With lots of community support in the recent October 2nd election, I won a spot in the run off election to be held this coming Tuesday, October 23rd.

Unlike my opponent, I've already served in the Georgia House. Which means there won't be any time wasted because of on-the-job training - I can and will put my experience to work for you the day after this election.

Unlike my opponent, I'm a trained lawyer with all the legal knowledge that's so vital for providing strong, progressive leadership.

And unlike my opponent, I'm on record as being deeply committed to making sure Atlanta gets a much fairer share of state revenues and public services.

Remember: Even if you didn't vote on October 2nd, you can and must vote this Tuesday, October 23rd.

I simply can't win without your vote. So please give me your support by punching #5 on your ballot - in return, I promise to give you and Atlanta experienced, effective leadership in the Georgia House of Representatives.

Thanks for your help,

Clint Deveaux

Dear Voter:

As you know, I am running for Congress and I need your support. I have been vitally involved in local government for the last ten years. Prior to that I served as the senior staff member to our U.S. Congressman.

This experience has taught me that much of what local government can do is determined by decisions made in Washington—that a knowledge of local needs, together with an understanding of the Congressional process, is a necessity if we are to have effective representation in the Congress.

I have this knowledge because I have lived and worked with you in this district for my entire life. I have spent the last eight years attempting to make federal policy work for the individual in our community.

Whoever is elected will be voting in the Congress the next day. There is no time for on-the-job training. Decisions affecting all of us are backed up right now awaiting action. I'm ready to go to work, but I need your active, vigorous help.

Election day, April 5, is almost here and predictions are for a low turnout. There will be no long lines, no waiting, and it will take only a few minutes to cast your ballot.

With your support and vote, we will win on April 5th!

Thank you,

ABOUT
WYCHE FOWLER, JR.

In just four years, Georgia Senator Wyche Fowler, Jr. has established himself as an effective leader for Georgia and the nation.

The widely respected National Journal named Fowler as one of the two “rising stars” in the U.S. Senate. The reasons are clear.

From his seat on the Budget Committee, Wyche led the fight to stop the practice of using Social Security funds to hide the deficit and worked to protect the Social Security Trust Fund in years ahead. He wrote and passed the Renewable Energy Act that has put America back on the path to developing clean energy sources. He authored the Rural Star Schools Act, ensuring that Georgia’s rural students receive the same educational opportunities as their urban counterparts.

Born in 1940, Wyche is a seventh generation Georgian. A graduate of Davidson College, Fowler served for two years as a Second Lieutenant intelligence officer in the U.S. Army and then earned a law degree from Emory University in 1969. He was elected to the Atlanta Board of Aldermen and President of the Atlanta City Council before becoming a member of Congress in 1977. In 1986 he won a tightly contested seat for the U.S. Senate.

Fowler’s outstanding work for the people of Georgia has earned him recognition and awards from the Southern Governors Association, the Georgia Wildlife Federation and the National Farmers Union.

Wyche is married and has one daughter. He is a member of Central Presbyterian Church in Atlanta.
Dear Fellow Georgian:

Over the past two years, the American ideal has captured the imagination of much of the world. Almost overnight, we have watched as the world transformed in our own image.

In eastern Europe, our one-time enemies have embraced democracy and launched a headlong march toward free market economies.

In the third world, new democracies are taking hold and the values of individual initiative, hard work and profit are gaining ground.

But at the same time much of the world embraces the American vision, we appear to have lost sight of its meaning for ourselves.

Our government is paralyzed. Instead of solutions, our leaders offer sound bites. Voters have become troubled, confused and angry.

They have begun to doubt their long-term economic security. Many even question whether our children will have the same opportunities we enjoyed.

If we are to build the future our kids deserve, one thing is certain. We need new direction from our government in Washington and we can delay no longer in meeting the serious challenges ahead.

That is why I am writing you today to ask for your help in my campaign for United States Senate.

Since coming to the U.S. Senate four years ago, I've tried to move beyond the side issues that often dominate politics and work for progress on the tough problems that stand between America and the future we deserve.

I have fought for real solutions to problems like conserving energy, protecting our environment, and ensuring quality education for our children.

Most importantly, I have told the truth about our deficit and fought to pass legislation that can rescue our government from fiscal disaster.
Let me give you a brief report.

Energy Independence

Long before Saddam Hussein drove the price of oil past $40 per barrel, I was working to free our nation from dependence on Middle Eastern oil.

Last year, I introduced broad new legislation to restore America's commitment to developing solar, wind and geothermal energy.

My bill, which the President signed into law, requires new efficiency standards to conserve fuel, and it renews research into efficient and clean energy alternatives. This will help make our nation immune to the oil blackmail of a Middle Eastern tyrant.

Education

Our most valuable resource in the years ahead won't be oil. It will be the skill and ingenuity of America's workforce.

But to compete with Germany, Japan and other nations, our schools must provide the same quality education. Today our classrooms simply do not measure up.

I have fought to reverse this trend, and to protect our children's educational future. In particular, I wrote and helped win passage of legislation that can make a big difference for our children in rural Georgia.

The Rural Star Schools Act expands course opportunities and increases the number of computers in our rural schools, giving these kids the same opportunities as their counterparts in bigger urban school districts.

Civil Rights

If we are to be the example for democracies, we must ensure the rights of all Americans. I was one of only two southern Senators to cosponsor the 1990 Civil Rights Act which passed the Congress and was vetoed by President Bush.

Choice

As a member of Congress since 1977, I have consistently supported the right of all women to make their own decisions regarding whether to terminate a pregnancy.
Environment

Perhaps the greatest challenge facing our generation is the preservation of our environment.

In the Senate, I worked hard for the passage of the new Clean Air Act which fights acid rain, limits toxic air pollution and eliminates the production of CFC's which destroy the ozone and threaten to alter our climate on earth.

I wrote new legislation that will preserve our national forests and I helped forge a compromise between farmers and environmentalists to limit the use of dangerous pesticides. The result is healthier food for all of us.

Reducing The Deficit

We can dream about the future we want for America, but unless we rescue our nation from the grip of debt our hopes will gradually slip away.

Last year, every dollar of federal income tax paid by every taxpayer in the 24 states west of the Mississippi went to pay the interest on our national debt. And it was still not enough to cover the bill.

Unless we reduce the deficit, our kids face a terrible future. Instead of paying for schools, defense and a secure retirement, their taxes will pay our debt. And we cannot allow that situation to happen.

As a member of the Senate, I have been an outspoken critic of policies that hide the truth from the American people.

I have opposed using the Social Security Trust fund to mask the deficit. And I have urged an end to accounting devices that produce false savings but avoid the difficult steps to resolve this crisis.

Last year, I played a leadership role in winning passage of a budget agreement that, for the first time, takes real steps to bring down our debt.

My actions were not always popular, but our nation cannot afford anything less than real solutions to this growing problem. And I intend to continue to insist on real solutions to our nation's problems -- even when these solutions are politically difficult.

But to win reelection, I need the help of you and other concerned Georgians across our state.
Four years ago, I won one of the closest Senate elections in Georgia history.

I face no shortage of potential opponents, and the Republican Party is almost certain to place me at the top of their target list.

I proudly stand on my record when I go before Georgia voters. But I must have the resources to get my message out and to counter the negative advertising the opposition is certain to run.

I anticipate that this election campaign will cost several million dollars.

And to raise that kind of money I must start now.

Your contribution of $25, $35, $50 or even $100 dollars at this early stage will make an enormous difference.

It will provide me with the start-up money to run a well-planned and effective campaign.

It will be a signal to potential opponents that Georgians support my work in the Senate and want to keep me on the job.

Most importantly, it will mean a lot to me personally to know that you are on my team and supporting my campaign effort.

In this era of negative campaigning, it's not always good politics to tackle tough problems or to take unpopular stands.

But your financial support is essential if you want leaders in Washington who are willing to take the necessary risks to protect your future.

With your support -- now and throughout this long campaign -- I know I can win this election. But without the support of you and other progressive Georgians, I won't stand a chance.

Thank you for whatever support you can provide. I hope to hear from you very soon.

Sincerely,

Wyche Fowler, Jr.

P.S. Nothing will do more to help my re-election than your early show of support. Please let me know you will be supporting my campaign by returning a generous contribution today.

Committee to Elect Emma Darnell
January 3, 1990

Dear Voter,

The Special Election scheduled for January 9, 1990 will give you an opportunity to elect a person who is committed to the public service. I am not seeking election to this position as a springboard to another political office. I want to represent you on the Fulton County Board of Commissioners because I believe that elected officials should work to improve the quality of life for all citizens.

If elected, I will be accessible to the community and will seek your advice. There are a number of issues which I believe should be on the agenda of the Fulton County Board of Commissioners in the 1990's. Some of the more immediate concerns which I will address are as follows:

- Improved law enforcement for unincorporated Fulton County
- Increased funding for Fulton County Parks
- Improved health care services offered by Grady Hospital and the Fulton County Health Department
- Develop alternative training programs for youth, such as a Youth Conservation Corps
- Develop policies and programs to create affordable and accessible health care for the elderly, and affordable housing options that support independent living
- Develop realistic plans for balanced residential and commercial growth
- Improve child protective services for children
- Develop programs which will move the homeless into roles as permanent workers

I realize that it will not be possible to implement these policies immediately. However, by working with other Fulton County Commissioners in a cooperative spirit, it will be possible to make these and other programs a reality in our community.

I will appreciate your vote on January 9, 1990.

Sincerely,

Emma Darnell

Hirsch Friedman

Paid For By The Committee to Elect Hirsch Friedman Solicitor General
Marc Shopsin, Chairman; Jane E. Friedman, Treasurer
Everyone complains about crime. Hirsch Friedman has been fighting crime all of his adult life.

When he was a business owner in New York City, he became outraged over the vandalism and other crimes being committed in the neighborhoods where he lived and worked. So, he became an Auxiliary Policeman. While personnel officer he also directed the operations of the weapons training program and received many awards and commendations.

Mr. Friedman came to Atlanta to work with the city police in establishing an auxiliary police force designed to meet the communities needs. The extended illness and untimely death of his first wife, though, left him with two small children to raise and changed his career plans. He worked his way through law school while operating a money management and financial recovery business. Last year, he married the former Beth Grey of East Point.

In 1979, Mr. Friedman became the first special consultant on organized crime to be appointed to the G.B.I. In this position he has worked closely with the F.B.I. and numerous state and local law enforcement agencies.

Now, Mr. Friedman is running for Solicitor General of Fulton County because he believes this to be "...a key position in attacking the crimes which affect each of us most directly". He feels the Solicitor's office should take the lead in the fight against the expanding use of drugs and alcohol by the county's young people. He wants to expand efforts to combat drunk driving and consumer fraud. He would also like to see a Trial Alternative Program where first offenders would do community service instead of slowing up the court system with the unnecessary prosecution of minor crimes.

"Crime prevention and deterrence must become major goals of the Fulton County Solicitor General's office." Mr. Friedman says.

October, 1982

Dear Citizen:

Who is going to run our government next year? The members of THE BLACK BALLOT want people who are really dedicated to doing good things and not just giving lip service to every potential voter. As black people, we have been promised everything from politicians who are looking to get or keep their jobs. However, there are a few candidates who are willing to serve their community because they, by the grace of God, have been blessed with the ability and true desire to give service to their fellow citizens -- sort of returning a little for the good they have received.

The officers and directors of THE BLACK BALLOT have carefully reviewed the records of the candidates who will be in the general election next month. We are especially concerned about the past history of these people and, in particular, their dealings with the Black Community.

This next election gives all of us in Fulton County the chance to reverse the frightening crime statistics in our community. A recent study by the U.S. Justice Department shows that crime touched three of every ten American households in 1981. The recent car-bombing assassination attempt on the Solicitor General candidate, Hirsch Friedman, is an example of how rampant criminal activity in Fulton County has now become. What is needed are strong leaders who will NOT back down to the criminal element; but have demonstrated, as has Mr. Friedman, that they will get the job done to protect the rights of everyone, not just a select few.

Following are the people we have selected as best qualified and most capable for the posts for which they are running. Additionally, these men have historically supported and been totally fair in their consideration of Black Americans.

Governor - Bob Bell
Lt. Governor - Frank Sutton
Secretary of State - Max Cleland
Fulton County Solicitor - Hirsch Friedman
Fulton County Commission - Michael Lomax & Milton Farris
State Senate Dist. 36 - Shelton Martin
State Senate Dist. 40 - Paul Coverdell

The Black Ballot endorses these men and believes that we all should vote for them on Election Day, November 2nd.

Sincerely,

deUs

Run-off Election
Mildred Glover
City Council Candidate
4th DISTRICT

My Dear Friends of the 4th District:

I want to express my warm and sincere appreciation for your vote which placed me in a run-off for the City Council seat. On October 16, you will return to the polls to select the person who will represent you in the City Council. I want to tell you why I think you should continue your support for me.

I have lived in the District for quite some time and I am familiar with our problems and needs. I grew up in the same terrible poverty that many of you have known. As a head of household, I am rearing two children; Kenneth, 17, and Roslynn, 7. I have secured a good education through my own efforts; and now I want to use that education to work for the benefit of all the people in our District. I shall propose and fight for the following: 1) day-care centers for working mothers; 2) experimental police precincts; 3) job-training and employment programs; 4) improved city services (trash pick-up, lighting, sewage, etc.); 5) good land use and development plans; 6) the use of revenue sharing funds for the welfare of senior citizens and the disabled, in addition to day care centers; 7) free MARTA transportation during non-rush hours for senior citizens.

One plank in my platform which is unique is that of accountability. I feel that the 4th District needs a community organization which will make not only the City Council representative, but the police, social services agencies, and the city government itself, responsible to YOU—the voter. For this organization, I am proposing the name COMMUNITY UNITY.

This is related to the reason I am seeking this office. The main reason is that I believe that a non-politician, a compassionate person of common sense and integrity, of experience and training, will represent the people better than a person seeking office for his own benefit or as a stepping stone to higher office or more power. I am not interested in becoming a professional politician. I am a school teacher at Atlanta University and have had extensive experience with MARTA, the Federal Government, and private businesses. I have worked and taught in the area of financial management for many years.

If you think the person who is going to represent you should be an individual who is really concerned and qualified to do the job, then you should vote for me. If you want a representative who will accomplish the things which should be achieved, I promise you I am that person. I need your vote and you need me as your City Council Member.

With best wishes for your future and the future of our city, I am

Your Candidate,

Mildred W. Glover
James Howard, candidate for councilman—3rd District, seeks Community Involvement.

James Howard plans to work specifically on Sanitation Pick-up.

We'll work to hire enough city employees for pick-up so that trash will not lay in peoples' yards for weeks.

Better Housing is a need that is ahead of Sanitation and it will, of course, be approached first.

We'll make sure that houses built on property owned by the Atlanta Housing Authority will be such that anyone (rich or poor) will want to live on it.

Howard has committed himself to working very closely with people who are affected by Marta... specifically in regards to people in the 3rd District getting a fair price for their homes.

James Howard already has set up a permanent office (and will maintain it after the election) for the people who live in the 3rd District to come with their problems, without having to go all the way downtown to City Hall.

One of the 1st pieces of legislation that James Howard will introduce will be to create a department with a youth director, budgeted by the City of Atlanta, to allow young people to participate in the function and understanding of City Government.

James Howard will continue to work for employees to have their organization to bargain collectively for them.

Howard will also continue to work for better salaries, better working conditions and fringe benefits for all City employees. He will also continue to push for better teachers salaries as he did when he served on the Salary Study Committee for Teachers Salaries for the Atlanta Board of Education.

Let's vote and make sure James Howard is given an opportunity to fulfill his commitments to himself and us.

Dear Voter,

Thank you for your support in the October 2nd election.

In some precincts, thanks to you, I polled two and three times the number of votes received by the second-place candidate.

I need your vote again to add to my victory total in the October 16th run-off.

NOW IS THE TIME to bring city government to the people of the Third District.

NOW IS THE TIME to clear our streets and lots of trash and garbage.

NOW IS THE TIME for MARTA and the Atlanta Housing Authority to listen to the voice of residents in our neighborhood.

NOW IS THE TIME to add JAMES HOWARD to the leadership team working for you at City Hall.

I will win on October 16th if only you will go back to vote in this important run-off. If you did not vote the last time, please make a special effort to vote next Tuesday.

I will make you proud of your vote.

The only candidate with fire

“If Jackson, using the same personal campaign style and rhetoric, were white, he would win almost by acclamation.”

When Sen. John Glenn arrived at the newspaper building a couple of days ago to seek an editorial endorsement for the presidency, no one seemed to pay much attention, except for a couple of writers who were mildly annoyed because he was late.

When Sen. Gary Hart came to the office a few weeks ago, it was as if the head of some minor federal agency dealing with, say, the preservation of the whooping crane had dropped by to say hello. No fanfare. No worship.

When former Vice President Walter Mondale came, he had a sizable crowd with him — his staff and the Secret Service escort.

When the Rev. Jesse Jackson came for an interview yesterday, 50 women, mostly employees of the newspaper, lined up outside the editorial offices to get his autograph and even ask for a kiss on the cheek. In the lobby, dozens of others did the same thing. They cheered and hugged and kissed and said as if Michael Jackson were passing through. It was a spontaneous outpouring of adulation and affection.

Jackson has no money, no organization and no strategy for getting out the vote. Yet he has advantages that no other presidential candidate possesses. He has fire and magnetism; he has the peculiar ability to make you feel good about his candidacy and, most important, good about yourself.

Jesse Jackson will not win the Democratic presidential nomination, nor even come close to it. But, if he is handled gently by the party regulars, he could become the Democrats’ most potent weapon against the Reagan administration.

For he embodies the kinship of enthusiasm among blacks that I have not witnessed since the death of Martin Luther King Jr. He is the embodiment of hope and ambition and power, without being either mean or strident.

And he can draw a crowd. In Savannah Sunday night, 10,000 cheering spectators jammed into the Civic Center to hear Jackson. Another 2,000, who couldn’t get in because of fire regulations, stood outside to listen and applaud.

Any other Democratic contender would have been lucky to draw a couple of hundred supporters.

For Jackson, big crowds and loud cheers are automatic. Even as he loses his bid for the nomination, his spirit and enthusiasm are — and therefore, the spirit of his supporters, particularly in the South — must be kept alive by the Democratic organization, if the party hopes to return this region to the fold.

If Jackson marches across the South urging blacks to register and vote in great numbers, he can make a genuine difference not only in the presidential race, but in congressional and local elections in Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Florida. He could trigger a new revolution in voting patterns.

But will he make the effort, once he is out of the presidential race? Georgia Democrat Chairman Bert Lance believes, or at least hopes, that he will. That is why Lance has sided with Jackson in complaining that the party’s rules for selecting convention delegates are too tough for outsider candidates with sparse financial backing. A candidate must win at least 20 percent of the primary vote in a congressional district to be in the running for a delegate.

“The rules are wild for the big shots and against the long shots,” goes Jackson’s standard line. The long shots, according to Jackson, include blacks, women, and Southerners.

Even more than former Vice President Mondale, Jackson proudly identifies with the aspirations and achievements of the Carter administration. “Carter used the presidency to change an enemy into an ally,” says Jackson, referring to the Camp David accords. “That is what it’s all about.”

If Jackson, using the same personal campaign style and rhetoric, were white, he would win almost by acclamation.
DEAR FRIENDS AND SUPPORTERS:

We, the undersigned, most urgently request that you go to the polls Tuesday, March 13, and cast your vote for Rev. Jesse Jackson, Democratic Presidential Candidate.

Like the late Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., Jesse is laying his life on the line for the freedom of our people. Are you aware that 7 persons who made plans to assassinate Jesse have already been arrested? And, some 40 others are under surveillance by the Secret Service.

Please understand we are not asking you to vote for Rev. Jackson because he has placed his life in danger for us, we honestly believe without a shadow of a doubt, with a good showing in Tuesday's election, this great leader can change the course of history as it relates to Black and poor Americans.

We believe you will agree, Rev. Jackson's candidacy is proving that Blacks are qualified to be President. In just four months Rev. Jackson's candidacy has already inspired hundreds of thousands of Black people all across America to get registered to vote. And, as a result, more Blacks will run and be elected to public office than ever before. This great leader is inspiring more young Black Americans to become involved in politics than any leader since Dr. King's death.

Rev. Jackson's candidacy is forcing all the other candidates not only to discuss issues relative to Black people, but to take positions on these issues. Otherwise, those other candidates would just sweep these issues "under the rug". Rev. Jackson's candidacy is unquestionably the BEST means of forcing the National Democratic Party to equally share its FRUITS with Black people and to allow Blacks to share in the POWER and POLICY MAKING of the Democratic process. Therefore, he must carry an exceptionally large vote in Tuesday's election.

Receiving a large percentage of the vote in Tuesday's election is the only way Rev. Jackson can go to the National Democratic Convention and demand total equity for Blacks. Please don't be fooled that Jesse can't win. But, if he doesn't win the nomination, he certainly can determine who will. But only, and we mean ONLY, if Rev. Jackson receives an overwhelming vote in Tuesday's election.

Please remember that Dr. King died for our freedom and Jesse is placing his life on the line for our freedom (by running for President). We only ask that you go to the polls and vote for him this Tuesday.

IN GOD WE TRUST,

Tyrone Brooks
Ina Evans
Hosea Williams

PAID FOR BY THE COMMITTEE TO ELECT JESSE JACKSON PRESIDENT
Dear Concerned Citizens of Council District 4:

The most gratifying aspect of our campaign has been meeting many of you who share the same concerns and hopes for this district and city as I do. You have allowed me, my wife, friends and supporters to come into your homes, community meetings and churches to talk with you and to learn from you. We have, indeed, learned a lot. I need the input of citizens whom I seek to represent because I am convinced that a public servant’s strength and effectiveness reflects the support of his constituency. With a mandate from you on October 6th and your continued support, I can and will be an effective advocate for you on the law making body of the city of Atlanta. You can count on that!

I enthusiastically decided to offer myself as a candidate for the Fourth Council District for several reasons. The most important are:

(1) An overwhelming number of you, including eighty to ninety percent of the various presidents and chairs of community organizations, encouraged my candidacy on the basis that the 4th Council District lacks conscientious and agressive representation.

(2) I believe that my ten years of experience with the city, both as a municipal corporate lawyer and a law enforcement officer, will enable me, with your support, to make a difference in the quality of city services that we receive from City Hall.

(3) A number of friends, colleagues and acquaintances suggested that I offer myself as a candidate because of my involvement in community affairs and my work experience in city government.

(4) I simply love this City and its people.
It is an exciting time to live within the Fourth Council District. I say that because I believe that the extension of the MARTA line into the Westend and Oakland City Community will, inevitably, make our district more attractive for economic development. Economic development would provide jobs for the unemployed and inject the much needed cash-flow into the area. We know, of course, that once a community begins to develop, better housing follows.

Additionally, crime is much easily reduced or controlled when good housing and businesses are prevalent in a community. Since proposals for revitalizing the Westview, Westend and the old Hunter Street businesses are already on the drawing board, it is my belief that we will see a noticeable improvement in the quality of life in this district. The speed of such improvement, however, will rest on community support for such improvement and the quality of leadership that you select for the next four years. I honestly believe that I am the best person for the job.

I believe that I am the best person for the job because, in addition to my concern for the quality of the lives of us all, I have the capacity to deliver quality city services to the Fourth Council District. My education in political science, my experience as a corporate lawyer, detective, and uniformed officer for the City of Atlanta, over a span of ten years, has given me the necessary expertise, I believe, to serve as an effective advocate for you on the law-making body of this city. The simple fact of the matter is, I know the “stage” called city government and the “characters on stage” because I have represented them (councilmembers and department heads) in all courts of this state, advised them on a day to day basis, and written the laws they have enacted.

Having said that, let me hastily add that there is absolutely nothing that I can do without your vote of confidence on October 6. I will need your support then and I will need your continued support upon being elected. Should you give me a mandate to serve as your advocate, working together, we can and will make a difference. I am committed to that end.

FOR DISTRICT 4, PUNCH 34

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Thomas Cuffie
Thomas Cuffie has worked hard for all he has achieved in his thirty-two years. The second of eleven children, he attended Morehouse College and graduated with a Bachelors of Art Degree in Political Science. During his years at Morehouse, Cuffie financed part of his education by working as a clerk at Lockheed of Georgia for one year. He began his career with the Atlanta Police Department while still a student at Morehouse.

During his last two years at Morehouse, Cuffie worked in the Police Bureau as a uniformed patrolman in much of the area which is now Council District Four, including Pittsburg, West End, Cascade-Beecher and Ashview Heights. He also lived in the community near the Atlanta University Center for seven years.

Cuffie graduated from Morehouse in 1971. He was promoted to detective in the burglary department. From the burglary department, Cuffie worked on the problems of burglaries in many communities in District Four, including Pittsburg, West End, Westview, and Ashview Heights. While serving in the burglary department, Mayor Maynard Jackson selected Cuffie as a security aide. In this position, Cuffie acquired a unique perspective of city government as he often attended meetings and discussed issues with various officials. He absorbed all this information with great interest. He left his duty with the Mayor and began Law School at North Carolina Central University School of Law where he graduated in the top 15 percent of the class. He held the prestigious title of Case Note Editor for the Law Journal. His involvement in academic and political affairs led to his election as a class representative to the Student Bar Association and an appointment by the Dean to the Standards Committee.

Public Safety Committees. He also advised members of Council on a day to day basis on legal matters and drafted laws at their request.

Cuffie has served the city well as a public servant. But his activities have not been limited to his employment with the city. On his own time, Cuffie has always been involved in community related activities. While at Morehouse, he was Vice-Basileus of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity and, as such, he implemented a program of soliciting can goods for the needy during the Christmas Season. While at North Carolina Central University, Cuffie organized the Omega Psi Phi Chapter at the university and served as the Charter Basileus. He is currently a member of the Venetian Hills Community Organization where he serves as Co-Chair of the Public Safety Committee. The committee has been instrumental in establishing the neighborhood watch program in that community.

As a member of the Gate City Bar Association, Cuffie has served with distinction as chairman of the Judiciary Committee for the last two years. This committee has played a significant role in increasing the number of black judges, on various levels of the judicial system, in Atlanta and the State of Georgia.

Cuffie is married to Dr. Kaneta Lott who is a practicing dentist in the city. They live in the Venetian Hills Community on Sandtown Road. Their daughter, Kimberly, is six years old.

Thomaas Cuffie announced his Candidacy July 21, 1981. He has been working hard canvassing neighborhoods and telephoning hundreds of residents. Thomas Cuffie has worked hard for everything he has earned. He will work hard for the improvement of the district and city. To that end, Cuffie is committed.
While attending law school, Cuffie worked as a research assistant to Solicitor Mary Welcome one summer and served as a police spokesperson the next summer. He "sat for" the Georgia Bar Examination and passed that exam during the last semester of a three year juris doctorate program. He is now in private practice here in the city.

Upon the recommendation of several councilmen, the Chief Administrative Office and the Mayor, Cuffie was appointed a Municipal Corporate Lawyer in June of 1978. During his tenure as a city attorney, Cuffie represented various city executives such as Mayor Jackson, Lee P. Brown, George Napper, Chester Funnine, J.D. Hudson as well as all members of council. He served as legal advisor to most committees of Council, including the City Utilities, Development, Transportation, Finance and the
