FROM THE PUBLISHER . . .

Rarely does one have the opportunity and luck to turn his bigger ideas into reality. My singular one has been to contribute to the general welfare of people in some special way. Through the years, communication has proven to be the most direct means of doing so. And after months of planning, revising, rewriting and consultation, IMAGE Magazine has emerged as that special means. It exists to present a total picture of you, your thoughts and way of life. In fact it is a reflection of you.

Producing this magazine was by no means an individual task. A tremendous thanks must go to those business persons whose advertisement underwrote the expense of this initial publication. Their support of IMAGE is very encouraging and has helped build a load of optimism about the future.

Lastly, I am sincerely grateful to my wife, mother, sisters and brother and all those other fantastic people who made this possible.

Oh yes! Happy Valentine’s Day.

CHURCH OF THE MONTH

FIRST A.M.E. CHURCH

The First A.M.E. Church had its beginning on Foundry Street where a small group of dedicated people met and worshipped in a blacksmith shop. This church was named Pierce Chapel.

The Rev. Thomas was the first Pastor of Pierce Chapel in which public school was provided in the church basement. The first teachers of this school were Mrs. Mamie Jackson and Mrs. Casmus Heard. A few of the early pupils were Mrs. Doss Derricotte, Mr. Albert Hawkins, Mr. David Marshall, Mrs. Emma Hill and Mrs. Ida Thornton.

The first organist was Bro. Mike Derricott and the first choir was organized by Sister Margaret Jones.

During the Rev. Manning’s pastorage, church plans were formulated to move to Union Hall on Washington Street while the present church was being built. It was dedicated in 1874.

Under the leadership of the present Minister, Dr. C. D. Wilkerson, the C. D. Wilkerson Educational Center was dedicated in 1973 as a new addition to First A.M.E. Church.

Miss Terri Earl is the 1976 Miss Black and Gold of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, at the University of Georgia. She is a totally involved person dividing her time between the Baha Faith, serving as Musical Director of the Black Theatrical Ensemble of UGA, playing fute in the symphonic band, and as flag carrier in the Redcoat Band. Whatever time remaining, she applies it to study.

Terri is the daughter of Mr. Tony Rittenhouse and the late Mrs. Alice Rittenhouse.

The 1974 Clarke Central High graduate says “I had always wondered why other winners would cry but there I was too, letting the happy tears flow!”

Congratulations Terri and a “right on” to those Alpha men for making such an excellent choice.

THE W. E. WILKERS: The family resides in Berkley Hills; 232 Ray Rhodes Drive, Athens, Georgia. Mrs. Wilker is an Augusta native while Mr. Wilker is an original Athenian. They have two lovely daughters, Erica 13 months and Michelle 5 years. What follows are their thoughts and feelings on love in the family relationship.

WILLIE:

When I think of love in the family relationship, I feel that companionship, respect, friendship, and partnership all are vital to the sustaining of a beautiful affair.

Love and companionship help me to be comfortable with myself. It helps to relieve me of the many pressures encountered daily. It helps me to talk, to express my feeling with without fearing that I will be judged on everything I say - but rather on those things I do to extend myself to my wife and my children.

Mutual respect and admiration for my wife and children require so much of me until I know that a stable, positive relationship with each of them must be based on love - not physical attractions.

I really feel that loving my family means sacrificing some of my wants while maintaining hope that one day I can see the rewards of all my efforts. My family has become my friends. I feel free to share and not waste energy wondering if I will receive love in return.

Love in my family relationship helps me to know that I must do my share of those tasks that are routine and menial, yet so essential to the total maintenance of a home and family.

Finally, I feel that love means living a life which is free of evil thoughts about others around me - free of envy and greed. I want my life to be full of joy and sound Christian principles which will help me to be the husband, lover, and father I want to be.

PAT:

Love in the family relationship can only be a positive experience when you feel good about the person you are. I cannot share myself with my mate if I am insecure and uncertain that I am a total person who can give of myself and yet not suffer. Loving your man begins with loving yourself. If I can be confident in my own abilities, realizing that there's some good in the worst of us and some bad in the best of us, then I do not have to live every waking moment trying to prove anything to anybody. I'm then free to love.

Sharing, caring, feeling and understanding become so intermingled in the total loving experience, it's difficult for me to know where one stops and the other begins. Sharing the pleasures, as well as the pain; caring when no one else seems to care; feeling the need to be sensitive, and understanding his need to be himself - sometimes apart from me.

There is seldom any day that passes that I do not secretly wish that something in my life could be different. I know, however, that all things will never be as I wish them to be. I must be accepting of those things I cannot change and yet determined to improve those things I can. Whenever there is true love in your marital relationship there's a spirit of cooperation - a willingness to compromise. I must bend and make sacrifices but I must sometimes have things my way.

I know when I am loved through means that have little to do with saying I love you. A communication system unique to each marriage and understood by each partner, lets you know without any doubt when there is love and when it's time to go. Some men simply are not comfortable saying I love you and while everyone loves to hear those words, we must learn to understand if the verbal utterances of romantic phrases aren't there.

Most important for me, however, is knowing my own imperfections, knowing what I am not and accepting what I cannot be lets me be free to share, to care, to feel, to understand . . . . . to love.
James M. Crawford or Coach Crawford as he is affectionately called, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Crawford of Athens. He attended Athens High and Industrial School. There he played guard on the basketball team for four years under the guidance of Rev. Billups. Coach also played football while in high school.

After graduation, he attended Clarke College. He majored in Social Studies. In between all the studying he still found time to play football.

During the summers, while still in college, Coach would help Rev. Billups with the teams. It was at this time he took a serious interest in coaching.

At the end of his college career he was drafted by the Army. When he left the Army he returned home to work. His first teaching assignment was at Athens High and Industrial School. He taught Social Studies and served as a volunteer assistant football and basketball coach.

Athens High and Industrial School became Burney Harris in 1965 and he became head basketball coach in 1966. His career at Burney Harris consisted of 65 wins and 40 losses. He won the Region championship once and went to the State twice. He coached several outstanding players in basketball as well as in football. Joe Eberhart was voted an All-American in college basketball; Terry Green was voted an outstanding All-American; Bob Nash played for the Detroit Pistons and Henry Smith played for the Milwaukee Bucks. James “Mug” Smith, a 315 lb. center, played professional football for one year; Aaron Heard played for the Dallas Cowboys and Jim Elder played 5-6 years in the Canadian football league.

During the 1970-71 season, Coach Crawford moved to Clarke Central High School. He set an outstanding club record of 19-2 in basketball. From this team two of his basketball players went on to play professional football. They were Horace King and Richard Appleby.

In 1973, Clarke Central won the 8AAA Region championship, journeyed to the State tournament and lost to Douglass High School. He also coached the team to win the 1974-75 and 1975-76 8AAA North subregion championship. In his six seasons with Clarke Central he has had 95 wins and 54 defeats.

Coach feels that his most outstanding player, during his basketball career, was Terry Green. Green averaged 42 points a game and in some games scored over 60 points.

Coach Crawford is married to the former Amanda Wise. They have three children: Bianca, Nicole and Maurice. Maurice plays football and basketball for the Athens Recreation Department.

Aside from his coaching duties, he finds time to participate actively in other organizations. He is a member of the Hill’s Chapel Baptist Church. On Sundays you’ll find him singing his heart out with the choir. He is also a member of the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity.

HOW DOES ONE DEFINE LOVE?

By Mrs. Aurelia Scott

Love has been defined in many ways. One silly definition that has been around for years is that “Love is a misunderstanding between two fools,” another that may be found in several dictionaries is that, “love is a fond, deep, tender feeling.” A most complete, though complex definition that I prefer is a composite made from many meanings of love. (It came from five dictionaries.) The definition is a fond, deep, tender, strong, complex emotion which causes one to appreciate, delight in, and/or crave the possession of another and to please or promote the welfare of another”.

Love can also be defined as a score of “zero” in some games and as everyone knows some people score zero in the many faceted complex game of life.

Christmastime and this time of year, (The time near Valentine’s Day) makes us ever mindful of love and its varied meanings, although we should be aware of the meaning of love all year long.

When asked to write my viewpoint I questioned several acquaintances for their meanings of interpretations of the word “love”. Some stated that love was almost a slavery type institution, “cooking, cleaning and washing dishes” with no mention of good attributes. One stated that love was “money”; another that love was “af-fecion”. After receiving what I considered at least a synonym type word for love, I decided to approach one more person. After much thought she stated that “Love was a warm, personal, special feeling inside that you have for people you care about”.

I feel that love is an intense, absorbing and tender feeling (more so than friendship) and that it was meant to be shared.

I believe that life was given to us to share so that we may “grow in love”. One of the greatest of all commandments, according to the great teachings of Jesus, is that “Ye love one another”. People should expend their energies loving their fellowman instead of being critical and unfeeling.

If we could be more feeling in general toward our fellow human beings whether they are of other races, colors or creeds, then all of the poverty, misery, ignorance, war and ugliness that hover over us would diminish greatly.

Psychologists tell us that there is no such thing as a “natural” love for people, but that we love simply when shown affection by those with whom we come in contact. Some early experiences help to mold our attitudes toward people and ourselves. This should lead us to an understanding of what it means to “Love one another’.

I believe that we should be able to live on earth according to the fulfillment of God’s will and when this will is done on earth as it is in Heaven, then and only then, will every man love his fellow human beings and act toward them as he desires that they should act toward him.

Love and only love can be the thing that establishes a “Kingdom” on earth. Only through Truth, Liberty, Brotherhood and Service can be overcome.

People even doubt “God’s love” but to doubt this, one would truly score “love” (zero) in the game of life.

VALENTINE

V is for the values we have in life. I as your husband, and you as my wife.

A is for the attitude we have toward each other, and the life we are sharing together.

L is for the love that will never die. It will last even after we reach our home in the sky.

E is for the evil imagination that sometimes fools me and you. And knowing all the time, that to each other, we are true.

N is for my need of you to survive in life, and that need is my reason for choosing you as my wife.

T is for the trust I have in you and you in me; for trust is what it will take for our love to be.

I is for the ignorance which we pay no attention to because they only want what's mine, and what belongs to you.

N is for all the nice things you are. I could search the world over and find no one better, near or far.

E is for the everlasting love we share; for as long as there is love, no heartaches we shall bear.
