Honorable Sir,

Your Poor Subject is in the greatest distress for provisions, having subscribed to the Charity of a few of his Acquaintance in this Place for some time past, she further begs leave to inform your Honor she is not in the list of fifty women, but has lived in this Place many years, being reduced to poverty, cannot submit without your Honor will please to grant that she may draw provisions as many others do at this time which perhaps may prolong the few days she has to live, and she will pray for your honours welfare.
